

Twitter Thread Generator Kit — 30 Viral Hooks + The Thread Engine

The system for writing threads that get saved, shared, and followed — even if you have 40 followers.

Who this is for

- Creators stuck at 500 followers
- Founders who want to build in public but don't know what to say
- Writers tired of staring at a blank compose box
- Anyone who's posted 20 threads and got 3 likes total

What's inside

- 30 proven hook formats (copy-paste and fill in)
 - The Thread Engine — the 7-part structure used by accounts 100K+
 - 12 tweet-by-tweet templates for the most shareable thread types
 - The "save trigger" checklist — 14 patterns that make people hit bookmark
 - 8 Claude / ChatGPT prompts to generate a full thread in 3 minutes
 - The timing playbook — when to post, when to reply, when to quote

Part 1 — Why Most Threads Die

Your thread dies in the first 3 seconds. Specifically, between the hook and tweet 2.

This is called "the drop." Twitter's algorithm watches: - Scroll speed on tweet 1 (hook retention) - Click rate to tweet 2 (unroll / see more) - Save / reply / quote within 10 minutes (signal)

If the drop is over 60%, the thread is dead. No amount of good content saves it.

Fix: stop optimizing the whole thread. Optimize the hook and tweet 2 only. Everything else is detail.

Part 2 — The 30 Hook Formats

A. Contrarian hooks (highest engagement)

1. The Reversal

Everyone says {{common advice}}. It's the worst advice in {{niche}}. Here's what to do instead:

2. The Heresy

I lost ${{amount}} believing {{myth}}. Here's the truth nobody tells you:

3. The Expert Switch

{{Famous person}} said {{their quote}}. After {{your experience}}, I strongly disagree. 5 reasons why:

4. The Old You

2 years ago I thought {{belief}}. Today I think the opposite. What changed:

5. The Cost

{{Common practice}} is costing you ${{amount}} per year. Nobody talks about this. Here's the math:

B. Curiosity hooks

6. The List Promise

I studied {{N}} {{thing}} from the past {{timeframe}}. {{Majority}} had the same {{N}} patterns. Here they are:

7. The Secret

There's a version of {{tool/platform}} that {{does amazing thing}}. Most people never find it. How it works:

8. The Hidden Metric

The only {{niche}} metric that matters is {{metric}}. Nobody tracks it. How I measure it:

9. The Backstage

{{Famous person/company}} does {{thing}} differently. I reverse-engineered their process.
Here's the breakdown:

10. The Unbelievable Number

I {{action}} for {{N}} days. Results: {{shocking number}}. Exact playbook:

C. Transformation hooks

11. The Before/After

Before: {{bad state}} After: {{good state}} The {{N}} changes that got me there:

12. The Timeline

Month 1: {{struggle}} Month 6: {{progress}} Month 12: {{outcome}} What I did in each phase:

13. The "I Used To"

I used to think {{niche}} was {{hard thing}}. Now I {{easy thing}} in {{short time}}. What changed:

14. The Blueprint

I went from {{bad state}} to {{good state}} in {{timeframe}}. 100% repeatable. The exact {{N}}-step system:

15. The Zero-to-One

I had {{zero resource}}. I turned it into {{result}}. Step-by-step:

D. Identity hooks

16. The Role Call

If you're a {{role}}, read this thread. It will save you {{specific pain}}. Start here:

17. The Uncomfortable Truth

Unpopular opinion for {{audience}}: {{Truth they don't want to hear}}. Proof:

18. The Permission Slip

You have my permission to {{thing they feel guilty about}}. Here's why:

19. The Founder Flex

I'm a {{niche}} {{role}} with {{credential}}. Here's what I'd tell my 22-year-old self:

20. The Gatekeeper

I've reviewed {{N}} {{thing}} at {{company}}. {{Percentage}} make the same mistake. What it is:

E. Listicle hooks

21. The Resource Drop

{{N}} free tools that replaced my ${{amount}}/month stack:

22. The Anti-List

{{N}} things I stopped doing to {{achieve result}}:

23. The Book/Podcast List

{{N}} {{type}} that changed how I think about {{topic}}:

24. The Accounts to Follow

{{N}} accounts shaping {{niche}} in {{year}}: (Not the obvious ones)

25. The Mistakes

{{N}} mistakes costing you {{pain}} without knowing:

F. Data hooks

26. The Survey

I surveyed {{N}} {{people}} about {{topic}}. The results surprised me. Top findings:

27. The Experiment

I ran {{experiment}} for {{time period}}. Variable: {{what you changed}}. Result: {{outcome}}.
Methodology:

28. The Autopsy

I reviewed {{N}} {{failed thing}}. They died for the same reason. Here it is:

29. The Trend Report

{{Metric}} for {{niche}} is {{direction}} {{percentage}} YoY. Nobody's paying attention. What it means:

30. The Benchmark

Good {{metric}}: {{number}} Great {{metric}}: {{number}} Elite {{metric}}: {{number}} How to hit elite:

Part 3 — The Thread Engine (7-Part Structure)

- 1. Hook (tweet 1) Use any of the 30 formats above. Must promise specific value. Must fit in 1 screen.
 - 2. The bridge (tweet 2) Credibility + context. Why should they listen to you? One-liner. No resume dumps.
 - 3. The problem (tweet 3) Name the pain they have. Use their internal language. Make them nod.
 - 4. The frame (tweet 4) The lens you're teaching. A framework, a principle, a rule.
 - 5. The meat (tweets 5–N) Execution. One idea per tweet. Use concrete examples. Numbers > adjectives.
 - 6. The recap (second-to-last tweet) 3-line summary of the thread. Tweet-sized.
 - 7. The ask (last tweet) One clear CTA: - Follow for more - Save this thread - DM me "
{{keyword}}" for {{freebie}} - Reply with your experience
- Never two CTAs. Pick one.

Part 4 — The "Save Trigger" Checklist

People save threads that:

- ☐ Have a framework with a name
- ☐ Include a template they'll use later
- ☐ Have a numbered list (5, 7, or 10 works best)
- ☐ Reference a specific tool or person
- ☐ Include a checklist
- ☐ Have a "Before/After" visual logic
- ☐ Cite a source (book, study, account)
- ☐ Promise a single outcome
- ☐ Use "copy-paste" or "steal this" language
- ☐ Include exact numbers (not ranges)
- ☐ End with a

clear "next step" ☐ Have a downloadable / linked resource ☐ Answer a question the reader has at 2 AM ☐ Replace a paid course they've considered

Hit 6+ checkboxes → save rate spikes. Hit 10+ → algo distribution.

Part 5 — Tweet-by-Tweet Templates

Template A — The "Lessons Learned" Thread

1/ [Hook #4 The Old You]

2/ Quick context: I spent {{N}} months / years doing {{thing}}.
Made every mistake you can make. Here's what I'd do differently.

3/ Lesson 1: {{lesson}}
{{one-line explanation}}

4/ Why this matters: {{the cost of not knowing}}

5/ Lesson 2: {{lesson}}
{{explanation}}

6/ Why this matters: {{cost}}

... (repeat 5–6 lessons)

12/ Recap:

- Lesson 1
- Lesson 2
- Lesson 3
- Lesson 4
- Lesson 5

13/ If this helped, follow @{{you}} for more on {{niche}}.
Or save this thread – you'll need it later.

Template B — The "Framework" Thread

1/ [Hook #6 The List Promise]

2/ I call this the {{memorable framework name}}.
It's {{N}} parts. Takes 10 minutes to learn, saves you {{outcome}}.

3/ Part 1: {{Letter}} – {{Name}}
{{What it means in one line}}

4/ How to apply it:

- {{step 1}}
- {{step 2}}
- {{step 3}}

5/ Part 2: {{Letter}} – {{Name}}
{{One line}}

... (repeat for each part)

10/ Full framework:

{{letter 1}} – {{name 1}}
{{letter 2}} – {{name 2}}
{{letter 3}} – {{name 3}}
{{letter 4}} – {{name 4}}
{{letter 5}} – {{name 5}}

11/ Save this thread. Apply it this week.
DM me "{{framework}}" for the 1-page PDF.

Template C — The "Case Study" Thread

1/ [Hook #10 or #27]

2/ The setup: {{who}}, {{where}}, {{starting condition}}.

3/ The problem: {{specific painful situation}}.

4/ What {{they}} tried first: {{failed approach}}.
Result: {{bad outcome}}.

5/ What actually worked: {{real solution}}.

6/ Step 1 of the solution: {{detail}}.

7/ Step 2: {{detail}}.

8/ Step 3: {{detail}}.

9/ The result: {{specific number / outcome}}.

10/ The lesson: {{generalizable principle}}.

11/ If you're stuck with {{problem}}, this playbook works.
Follow me for more case studies.

Part 6 — The Prompt Pack (Copy into Claude)

Prompt 1 — Hook Generator

You are a Twitter thread strategist.

I want to write a thread about: {{TOPIC}}

My audience is: {{AUDIENCE}}

The outcome I want reader to feel: {{FEELING / INSIGHT}}

Generate 10 different thread hooks using these styles:

- Contrarian
- Curiosity
- Transformation
- Identity
- Data/listicle

Each hook must be under 280 characters. No hashtags. No emojis unless they add meaning.

After each hook, rate its "scroll-stop" potential 1-10 with one-line reasoning.

Prompt 2 — Full Thread Generator

Write a Twitter thread using the Thread Engine structure:

1. Hook (use style: {{CHOSEN STYLE}})
2. Bridge (credibility)
3. Problem statement
4. Named framework
- 5-9. Meat (one idea per tweet, concrete examples)
10. Recap
11. CTA: {{CTA YOU WANT}}

Topic: {{TOPIC}}

Audience: {{AUDIENCE}}

My credibility: {{WHY SHOULD THEY LISTEN}}

Concrete examples I can use: {{EXAMPLES OR LINKS}}

Rules:

- Each tweet under 280 characters
- No "Let me know in the comments"
- Concrete numbers > vague claims
- One idea per tweet
- The framework needs a memorable name

Prompt 3 — Save-Trigger Optimizer

Here's my draft thread:

{{PASTE THREAD}}

Rewrite it to hit at least 8 of these save triggers:

- Named framework
- Template included
- Numbered list
- Specific tool / person
- Checklist format
- Before/After logic
- Source cited
- Single clear outcome
- "Copy-paste" or "steal this" language
- Exact numbers
- Clear next step
- Downloadable / linked resource
- Answers a 2 AM question
- Replaces a paid course

Keep the voice casual. Don't pad. Cut anything that doesn't earn its place.

Prompt 4 — The Ruthless Editor

Edit this thread like Derek Sivers.

Rules:

- Cut every sentence that doesn't earn its place
- Replace adjectives with numbers
- Make each tweet sound like one person talking to one person
- Remove throat-clearing ("I've been thinking lately...")
- If a tweet doesn't pass "would you actually say this?" – cut it

Thread:

{{PASTE}}

Part 7 — The Timing Playbook

When to post: - Tuesday / Wednesday / Thursday - 7-9 AM ET OR 12-1 PM ET - Never Sunday (worst day) - Never after 10 PM (engagement crater)

First 30 minutes (critical window): - Reply to every comment - Quote-tweet 1-2 of your best replies - Do NOT edit the thread (algo penalty) - If someone asks a good question, answer in a new tweet AND reply

First 24 hours: - If it hits >5% engagement, reply with "if you enjoyed this, my newsletter goes deeper: {{link}}" - If it's dying, don't panic — drop it, write the next one

Week 2+: - Repost top threads with small tweaks every 2 weeks - Turn best threads into blog posts / LinkedIn posts / newsletter issues - Build a "greatest hits" pinned tweet every quarter

Playbook — How to Use This Kit

Day 1: Pick 1 hook format. Write 1 thread. Post it. Day 2: Use the Ruthless Editor prompt on yesterday's thread. Note what you cut. Day 3-7: Post 1 thread per day. Track opens, saves, replies. Week 2: Find your best-performing hook style. Double down. Week 3: Introduce a named framework. Repeat it in every thread. Month 2: Turn top 5 threads into a lead magnet.

The Single Biggest Lesson

Threads don't go viral because they're long. They go viral because they're useful enough to save.

The hook sells the thread. The save triggers make it spread.

Everything in this kit is engineered for one thing: making someone hit bookmark at tweet 3 and follow you by tweet 11.
